

Dear Parents,

I hope you are having a wonderful day.

I have attached some box top forms to help with your organization of all those box tops you are saving for our school ☺. It is also fun for your child to get involved with the cutting and taping of the box tops. If our classroom has the most for the month we will have an ice cream party. Also, and most importantly, this is money to help supply our classrooms with needed materials. Thank you parents.

Almost everyone is signed up for parent-teacher conferences. If you are signed up and have a time with me, I have attached your day and time to this letter.

We do not have a Scholastic order pamphlet going out next month due to the Book Fair during our spaghetti dinner fundraiser on November 18th. I did want to remind you, however, that when you order online from the Scholastic Book Club our classroom receives a new book. The code needed is: GYFPL (As a side note, Mrs. Carr's name comes up but the order still goes to our class). We do need more independent reading chapter books of all genres in our room, and this is a great opportunity for you as parents to help out. Also, If you have any books you would like to donate, I would love to see them. The kids are reading so much, which I love, but I need more books.

Both classes are moving ahead quickly. I would say we have found our groove. We will have tests either next Friday or on Monday the 31st. For third grade we are adding numbers with carrying or borrowing. Second grade is starting geometry and measurement next week. In English we are all learning about nouns and will start verbs next week. We will continue learning how to write creative stories. Third grade has a Science test next Thursday, and therefore they have homework this weekend. They will also have a review sheet go home on Monday to be finished by Tuesday. I will go over this before the test and send it home for study.

Something new on our website is a classroom link. If you click on our class you will see the current happenings of our room. Mrs. Carr is helping us with this and adding the information I give her. I am hoping to be diligent with keeping up with new stuff to send her. The Friday letter will be on there, and the xtramath.org link will also be on this page.

I am in need of a table for our room. I have a countertop piece, but it does not have legs ☹. I would like to set up a listening center for the students. For now they sit on the floor or at their desks for this. If anyone can fix up my countertop piece and make it a table that would be great. If someone has a rectangular-type table to spare that would be great too. Let me know.

Thank you for all you do. Your help at home is needed and appreciated.
